

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, September 10

1997

Marshall to Host Gamma-Ray Burst Conference Sept. 15 - 20

The Fourth Huntsville Gamma-Ray Burst Symposium will be held Sept. 15 - 20 at the Huntsville Hilton. The conference, sponsored in part by Marshall, will bring together world renowned scientists to debate the causes of gamma-ray bursts, one of the biggest mysteries of the universe. More information about the symposium is available on the web at "<http://www.batse.msfc.nasa.gov/information/4hgrbs/>".

To Volunteer for CFC Community
Service Day Sat.
Contact Jeff
Hamilton, 4-1186

Exercise Log Sheets Due Fri.

The deadline for turning in exercise log sheets for the Intra-Agency Exercise Challenge has been extended to Friday. Log sheets may be mailed to CM21X.

Contact: Bill Stease, 4-7571, or Pat Mirandy, 4-7570.

NASA Employees Get Free Admission to AIAA Conference

The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics will host the 1997 Defense and Space Programs Conference and Exhibit Sept. 23 - 25 at the Von Braun Center. The conference will feature presentations by NASA program directors and U.S. military leaders on challenges and opportunities facing space programs. Marshall civil service employees will be admitted free by showing their badge at registration. More information is available on the web at "<http://www.aiaa.org>".

Center Implements Toll-free Voice Mail Access Number

There is now a toll-free number for Marshall employees and on-site contractors to access the Marshall voice mail system from outside the local calling area. The number is 1-888-245-6732. The toll-free number is a result of the new IDEAS employee suggestion program.